Forecast For London & Southeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Tuesday 06 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Snow showers on Tuesday. Cloudier, less cold on Wednesday.

Today:
A dry and largely sunny morning, though cold. Some scattered snow showers will develop during the latter part of the afternoon. These will move quickly in the strong northerly wind, giving a significant wind chill. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers will die away during the evening, with lighter winds and clearer skies leading to a cold night with a widespread frost, generally more severe in western parts. Minimum temperature -4 deg C (25 deg F).

Wednesday:
Plenty of morning sunshine on Wednesday. Some cloudier conditions in the afternoon, largely dry and bright but perhaps the odd shower in the far west. Less cold than previous days. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Dry but becoming largely cloudy on Thursday, feeling slightly milder. Cloudy but bright on Friday, some rain later. Rain clearing east on Saturday, then sunny with showers. Feeling colder.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.